

Solution details

We pioneered the concept of performance based debt recovery and have maintained a policy of not charging our clients any loading fees, membership fees or other similar charges for over thirty years. Our “No Recovery - No Charge” service means that our commission is only charged on the amount we actually recover for you.

Our system for debt collection has been developed and refined over many years. It utilises a series of letters and phone calls to firstly engage your debtor and have the debt acknowledged. Then it focuses on having your debt prioritised and paid before other accounts the debtor may have owing. Finally, it aims to achieve fast repayment and monitoring any agreement to ensure the debtor follows through.

In the instance a debtor proves elusive we are able to perform a trace using their last known details. If further investigation is required, we are able to refer the file to our in-house investigations department for more extensive inquiry.

Our system and approach allows slow payers to settle their debts quickly, and without much fuss or embarrassment. It also places enough focus and pressure on seasoned debtors to achieve positive outcomes on complex and troublesome accounts.
